“ I was very sorry to hear Fred passed away earlier this week. Although we didn't have a close relationship, Fred and his mother Anna Marie and father Eugene were often on my mind over the years. Fred and I spent limited time together at our grandparent's farm in Burkhart as children, and once he taught me how to 'float' in Red River behind the house. The latest interaction was 10 years ago when Fred, Doug, and I oversaw sale of the Risner Homestead (after my father Waldo passed away). Although we had just a few telephone conference calls Fred's voice was still recognizable and we shared pleasant memories of our grandparents and the farm in Burkhart.

My condolences to Fred's family during this period. Prayers for all of you in the days ahead,

Marc Risner (Fred's Cousin)

“ Freddie as we knew him was a good friend to my husband and me while attending Avondale High School, and it was always good to see him at our reunions! He was a good guy! Our condolences.

“ Fred was my first cousin. I figure I didn't take much interest in him until I was six or seven and he was two or three. We saw each other at frequent reunions when we were young. At one point, we both lived in Tucson. As teenagers, whenever we met, we would drive around looking for girls or to visit relatives and friends. We enjoyed each other's company and I was always pleased to see him. Fred was an interesting fellow throughout his life. He was very proud of his family. I thought that being an only child was a factor in his enjoying being the patriarch of a good sized family. The Fred I knew was a good guy. I know how he turned out that way. His father and mother were absolutely top-notch people. Fred couldn't have helped picking up good characteristics from his model parents. I will miss Fred, but I am left with many good memories of him. I hope that his wife, children, grandchildren and great grandchildren are also comforted by loving memories of Fred.
