“Joyce and Pete and all the cousins are such a special part of the Trammell family. I always felt their love and the joy they brought to anyone who spent time with them. As a child I always enjoyed going to the Sunmer Methodist church when we visited Merle and Bo, our grandparents and having Joyce be my Sunday School teacher. We always started the service with a Joyce leading us in singing “Something Good is going to Happen Today”. She was the kind of lady who made sure something good would happen if you were in her presence. Thankful for her beautiful testimony, for all the birthday cards she sent to my mom, her cousin Mary Alice, and for leaving a legacy of love in this world. Peace to you Pete, Liddy, Debbie, and Julie.

“Hal Trammell always thought of her as his older sister rather than as a cousin. We both thought the world of her and Pete. The last visit Hal had with any of his relatives except for children and grandchildren was with them during his last visit to Summer about three years ago. A great time was had by all. Praying for all of you.
