“ I worked with Andy, Marion Withington, Bill Sullivan and Charlie LaChance around 1975 in what was then called "PAD" or "SPD". Looking back now, it was the beginning of what is now called "Central Supply". Andy taught me so much about the job. His experience as a Nurse's Aid and in PAD was invaluable as I had little experience in the medical field. Our workload in those days with a hospital of 240 patients was quite overwhelming at times. His patience and knowledge were very valuable lessons that I learned as well as his work ethic. I have thought of Andy many times over the years, wondering how he was and how he was doing. He told me many stories about where he grew up in Lebaanon near what is now a covered bridge near the bottom of Hary Hill. I will never forget him for all that he did for me in my early days at the VA Hospital in White River Junction, Vermont. God Bless all of you. Sincerely, Mark Greenan....
