“ I met LaWayne at McDonald's years ago. He was eating breakfast with J. W. McKenzie, and we all just conversed and fellowshiped like life-lo9ng friends from the start. LaWayne and my wife were the only ones who loved Mickey D's coffee the way I do. He always had a smile and was glad to see me. I was happy to renew his acquaintance each time we saw each other. I am so sad to know I will not share a cup o' joe with him again... but I'll see you again, LaWayne!

“ *Dianne and I are sorry we could not be with you Wednesday. Our thoughts and prayers are with you at this time. I had a great appreciation for LaWayne. Any time our paths crossed he welcomed me as a brother. We were on the same ball team and were at many family reunions together. He was always the most welcoming person there. Loved this guy. “ I was saddened to learn that LaWayne passed away today. I loved him & recall many pleasant times we had together. I am shocked as I talked to him last week & in fact he was included in my prayers as church as he requested me to do so this week. I loved him & his family. May God bless all of you . I agree with Alice my sister & even though we are saddened by his passing I am sure Verma Lee is rejoicing with him in Heaven now.

I'm so sorry to hear of my good friends passing. He was the brother that I didn't have since the passing of my own. We did lots together. Fishing, traveling and talking on the phone solving all the worlds problems. There's an old saying that goes (jack of all trades and master of none). But with Lawayne, it was just the opposite. He was master of all. Great friend who always had your back. I'll miss him dearly.

To Faye and family, I am so very sorry for your great loss. LaWayne was my cousin, and I will truly miss our phone chats from down here in Florida. LaWayne knew full well that this ole earth is not our home--we all are just passing through. Knowing that he was a believer is of great comfort. Even so, we are allowed to weep. Shortest verse in the Bible: "Jesus wept." May God bless his family..
