“ I am so saddened to learn of Bobby's death. He was a dear friend. Bobby and his family were my family's neighbor for many years in Poulan. In fact, Harry and I were neighbors until his death. Like many people in small communities, the McGirts were like family. My prayers are lifted for all the family. I send my love to each of you. May God's Blessings bring comfort and peace.

“ Sorry to read about Bobby's death. When I think of Poulan and the McGirt family, I can just see Bobby all dressed up for church, going barefoot. He did not like to wear shoes in the summer or winter.

“ I am very sad to just learn of Bobby's death. He and I went through all twelve grades together in Poulan and Sylvester High School. Our relationship continued as roommates at Georgia Teachers College (GA Southern) during our freshman year and the beginning of our sophomore year prior to his withdrawal from college. One of my greatest disappointments is having lost contact with Bobby. I can still see Bobby, Doug, Bill and I singing "The Happy Wanderer" at a Halloween Fest during our senior year. Bobby had a great voice as well as so many other assets. I could never have passed College Algebra without copying his homework each night. I can think of nothing more that he disliked than wearing shoes. I never saw him in a pair until high school but he quickly pulled them off when he boarded the bus back home--as he always did after college classes.

I regret his lack of attendance at our SHS reunions over the years. It would have been so great to learn of his activities and family. I am sure he had his reasons but we still felt a tremendous loss of his association. When I think of Poulan, the first home and family that comes to mind is the McGirt household. It was not only central geographically but in so many other ways and activities surrounding our lives. I have made reference to the McGirts on several occasions in my little book, "Stories from Poulan".

Farewell Bobby and "Happy Wandering"!

“ Richard Leymeister mentioned Robert often. Richard a doctor's appointment on the day of Robert's service in Albany and will not be able to attend, much as he wanted to. He really hated to hear of your loved one's passing. May God give you comfort in the knowledge that Robert is in heaven with his heavenly Father looking down on you and your family during your time of sorrow.
